As an animal rights activists, I want to ask you sincerely to please accept internationally validated non-animal methods, including the following: non-animal test methods for skin and eye irritation, phototoxicity as well as fever induction. I would also like to ask you to please follow the additional December 2006 recommendations of the animal protection community. I'm asking you to please listen to what I have to say and do what I have recommended. Animals are suffering and even dying needlessly everyday, we need to do something about it. Thanks for your time.

Best regards,
Marina
